

DESIGNED ARCHITECTURAL LIGHTING

EDUCATION

BUILDINGS & SPACES FOR EDUCATION

DAL has designed and supplied luminaires to a large variety of education buildings since they began trading in 1984. The projects can be new-build, state of the art institutions or historical buildings that need high-tech solutions while also meeting the aesthetic requirements of the period. There are many areas within projects of this nature, not just teaching spaces and lecture halls, but also library and exhibition areas, gyms and washrooms, cafes and canteens, staff offices, corridors and entrance halls.

DAL has worked closely with one or many disciplines of a design team: the lighting designer, the architect, the interior designer or consulting engineer in the development of a lighting design or a custom product. The visual needs of the students and staff remain constant. It is not only the amount of illuminance needed for people to see the task or move round a building safely that are important, but also their visual comfort and the lit appearance of the space. DAL has many skills and products to meet these needs.
