ART GALLERY & MUSEUM LIGHTING

BALTIC Spotlight

There are many things to consider when lighting art works, sculptures or displays. It is not just the amount of light, but also the colour appearance and colour rendering. For this reason, DALI designs with the best LED and lighting control technology to ensure the highest quality lighting. DALI now has three key products to meet the needs of any gallery, museum or area of display. When specific lighting is not required DALI has other suitable products, such as downlighters, for general areas. DALI has also designed and manufactured bespoke products for heritage buildings and also products with very specific photometric requirements.
